At the United Nations in September 2000 world leaders made a promise that every child would be in school and learning by 2015.

ACHIEVE UNIVERSAL PRIMARY EDUCATION

However, 58 million children are still being denied their right to education, and schools and school children are being attacked.

But things are changing. All around the world, from Pakistan to Gaza to Nigeria young people are starting to connect, to make their voices heard, and to demand action

They are creating a message no government, no politician or leader can ignore: A universal petition to bring together everyone globally who shares the belief that every child has the right to go to school, without danger and without discrimination.

Dear World Leader, Prime Minister, President

We, the world's youth, teachers, parents and global citizens appeal to our governments to keep their promise, made at the United Nations in 2000, to ensure all out-of-school children gain their right to education before the end of 2015.

We are standing up to bring an end to the barriers preventing girls and boys from going to school, including forced work and early marriage, conflict and attacks on schools, exploitation and discrimination. All children deserve the opportunity to learn and achieve their potential.

We are #UpForSchool

These young people need all the help they can get to mobilise the world to their cause. Here are three ways you could help them:

1. Collect signatures

2. Donate a date

3. Help launch the petition

1. Collect signatures

Partners can own and actively promote the petition

2. Donate a date

Partners can announce a day or a week where they promote the petition across their own networks and communities -we will put our social media and communications BEHIND YOU!

3. Help launch the petition

Partners attending the UNGA could join us at the launch on September 22nd and make a public commitment during their meetings on the 23rd

These young people need our support to succeed. Are you #UpForSchool?
